Six Strategic Priorities
To mark the transition from legacy Hornets to the Super Hornet, the Blues flew a combined final flight with both types of aircraft on Nov. 3, 2020. Here the No. 1 aircraft of commanding officer Commander Brian Kesselring, an F/A-18C, is alongside one of the new F/A-18E Super Hornets.

"Well, boss, if we hit each other we knew we were too close together. And if we didn’t hit each other we were too far apart.”

GENERAL COUNSEL UPDATE
MOAA Chapters: Legal Status

• Councils & Chapters are Affiliates
  – Chapters are independent, self-governing, and self-supporting organizations
  – The MOAA Charter authorizes councils & chapters to associate with MOAA and to use MOAA’s name, logo, and tag line

• Relationship with MOAA National
  – Separate and distinct organizations
  – Councils & chapters are not agents or subsidiaries of MOAA National
  – They are not covered by MOAA’s IRS tax exemption or MOAA’s liability insurance
MOAA Chapters: Legal Status

• MOAA Recommendation: Incorporate
  – Protects officers, directors, and members from personal liability in most instances
  – MOAA Council and Chapter Policies and Procedures Guide provides useful templates for Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws
  – The website for the Secretary of State or Corporation Commission for your state provides detailed instructions and forms to use to incorporate – Follow the procedures for non-stock corporations (Virginia) or non-profit organizations (in your state)

• Apply to IRS for your tax exempt status
  – IRC 501(c)(19) – Veterans Organizations
  – IRC 501(c)(4) – Social Welfare Organizations
  – IRC 501(c)(3) – Religious, Charitable, or Scientific Organizations

• Tax exempt status depends primarily on – Your mission (lobbying and advocacy, scholarships, or community improvement)
  – Source of income (dues, event revenue, donations)

• Exempt Status granted/denied by IRS after review of Articles of Incorporation or other organizational documentation

• Key Reference: IRS Publication 557
The Process

• Secretary of State or State Corporation Commission charters the corporation
  – Check availability of name
  – Reasonable fee (Virginia is $75)
  – Download forms from website and submit
  – Approximately 10 days
• Internal Revenue Service determines tax-exempt status
  – File the Correct IRS Form
  – Pay filing fee of $600 [$275 for 501(c)(3) Charities]
  – Generally takes 60 to 90 days, but exempt status is retroactive
  – File timely annual tax return – IRS Form 990-N

Charitable Solicitations

• Soliciting Charitable Contributions
  – Tax Exempt vs. Tax Deduction
  – State Registration Requirements
  – Annual Renewals Required
• Registration Requirements and Exemptions Vary by State
  – “Crowdfunding” is generally considered a solicitation
  – Pay the state’s filing fee (Varies)
  – Online website solicitation may trigger out of state registration requirements
MOAA Chapters: Liability Insurance

• MOAA Recommendation: Chapter/Council Liability Insurance
  – Bad things happen – traffic accidents; food poisoning; alcohol-related injuries; personal data stolen or compromised; contractual indemnification
  – Your homeowners insurance doesn’t cover what you do as a chapter or council officer
  – Your chapter has a duty to be a responsible member of your community - if a chapter unintentionally causes harm, it needs to have the means to make it right
  – Litigation is expensive – at least $30,000 to $50,000 even for a frivolous claim

MOAA Chapters: Liability Insurance

• Insurance for Chapter Activities
  – Council and Chapter Insurance is available through MOAA’s insurance administrator, Mercer Health & Benefits Administration LLC
  – Up to $2 million in commercial general liability coverage
  – Provides coverage for legal fees even if suit lacks merit
  – Annual cost varies depending on size of chapter. Generally, annual premium through Mercer is around $350
  – Prices vary -- Check with a local commercial insurance broker
Other Issues

• Chapter Newsletters and Websites
  – Your newsletter/website represents MOAA
  – Things to Avoid
    • Divisive social issues
    • Partisan political issues

• Service Seals and Symbols
  • DoD/Services own trademark rights on most military service seals and symbols
  • May not be used to identify the chapter
  • Avoid incorporating them in the header, title, or chapter name
  • Prior permission is required (not normally granted)
  • Chapters are authorized to use MOAA seals and symbols

APPENDIX I: ADVOCACY FACT SHEETS
Congress: Provide a Basic Needs Allowance for Military Families Facing Food Insecurity

What Is the Basic Needs Allowance?
The proposed Basic Needs Allowance would give an estimated $400 monthly subsidy to servicemembers with a household gross income (not including the Basic Allowance for Housing, or BAH) at or below 130% of the poverty line. The subsidy is meant to ensure no military family faces food insecurity. It would be accompanied by financial education resources.

The Congressional Budget Office (CBO) estimates around 10,200 servicemembers would benefit from the monthly allowance. The program would cost $175 million from 2021 through 2024, according to CBO projections—a little less than $44 million per fiscal year.

Servicemembers would not rely on this program for extended periods of time. Instead, it would provide much-needed temporary assistance during times of financial difficulty, mostly among junior enlisted.

This program also will alleviate the need for servicemembers to participate in the government-sponsored Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), thus reducing mandatory spending in this area and making the overall program cost minimal when compared to the DoD budget.

Why Is It Needed?
Many military families facing food insecurity do not qualify for SNAP because BAH is included in the program’s calculation of gross income. This barrier to SNAP participation has led to thousands of military families seeking assistance from food pantries, many operating on or near military installations. The Armed Services YMCA, one of the top food pantry providers at military installations, reports a 400% increase in demand for assistance during the pandemic. The mental and physical impacts of food insecurity directly impact a servicemember’s ability to do their job, compromising military readiness.

Additionally, the DoD has spent billions of dollars looking into obesity in the military, increasing the recruitment pool, and Total Force Fitness. Food insecurity plays a part in all of these; addressing it with a wider approach will create positive change for mental and physical health, and could potentially save dollars spent addressing these issues.

To learn more about SNAP participation among servicemembers and MOAA’s concerns with the 14th Quadrennial Review of Military Compensation report on this topic, visit MOAA.org/foodinsecurity.

You Can Help: Cosponsor H.R. 2339
- We are seeking bipartisan support for our military families facing food insecurity. Your cosponsorship of this legislation will help us secure this bill in the FY 2022 National Defense Authorization Act.
- Support for military families. Will you join us and the coalition of more than 35 military and veterans service organizations committed to passing this legislation?
- These organizations endorse this legislation and represent millions of Americans: The Military Coalition, MAZON, Blue Star Families, The White Oak Collaborative, and other partners.
Background
Servicemembers, veterans, and their families from every generation face lifelong challenges from toxic exposures.

Oct. 31, 2021, will mark the 50th anniversary of the final helicopter flight when Agent Orange was used in Vietnam. Thirty years have passed since Gulf War veterans were exposed to myriad hazardous materials and toxins. Twenty years ago, the first troops were deployed to fight the global war on terror, many serving near open-air burn pits and other environmental dangers.

Each war poses unique hazards and exposures for servicemembers, and each conflict has led to tens of thousands of veterans suffering from illnesses or disabilities long after they returned home. Despite the documented history of potential health consequences connected to the dangers they encountered during service, many servicemembers are not receiving commensurate health care and benefits.

Action 1: Concede exposure
The first step toward supporting servicemembers who fought in Southwest Asia is to concede exposure to toxic substances. The Veterans Burn Pits Exposure Recognition Act will support claims by:

- Specifying countries and time periods of service: Those who served in a given nation at a time when these burn pits were active would be presumed to have been exposed to burn pit toxins.
- Listing airborne hazards and toxic substances that a servicemember was exposed to within the specified countries.
- Requiring the VA to provide a medical exam to determine any links between medical conditions and burn pit exposures.

For Army combat engineer Sgt. Mike Geib, the symptoms of Gulf War illness were immediate. Before he deployed, he was healthy and excelling on his physical fitness tests. But just 10 years later, he was a 28-year-old Army sergeant medically discharged with a 10% disability rating for asthma.

“I couldn’t run, I was turning blue,” Geib said, describing how serious his respiratory issues had become. “I knew in my heart. I knew it was from exposure.”

During the Gulf War, Geib’s unit traveled through Saudi Arabia, Iraq, and Kuwait, where he worked in close proximity to the oil well fires. When the unit returned to the United States, he stayed behind to paint equipment with a paint that was later determined to contain carcinogens.

In the 27 years since he was discharged, Geib’s health has suffered and new diagnoses of fibromyalgia, irritable bowel syndrome, memory loss, migraines and respiratory issues have increased his disability rating to 100%.

“Believe us,” he said. “We Congress: Pass Comprehensive Toxic Exposure Reform

Army Sgt. Mike Geib was 28 when he was medically discharged. Since then, he has fought a long battle for assistance.
Congress: Enact these bills to support comprehensive toxic exposure reform

Cosponsor the Veterans Burn Pits Exposure Recognition Act, S. 437 / H.R. 2436
- Concede exposure for those who served where burn pits were used in Southwest Asia.

Cosponsor the Toxic Exposure in the American Military (TEAM) Act, S. 927 / H.R. 2127
- Support health care for exposed servicemembers.
- Create an advisory committee to recommend research.
- Require the VA to respond to scientific evidence associating diseases with toxic exposures.

Action 2: Increase Presumptives Reporting
When there is a sufficient level of association between a service-related exposure and an illness, Congress establishes a “presumptive exposure” to remove the burden of proof from servicemembers.

Congress should require the VA to provide a public, quarterly report on all future veterans’ claims submitted to the VA for presumptive conditions or “special interest conditions,” such as illnesses being evaluated for potential links to burn pit exposure.

When Col. Donald Siebenaler, USA (Ret), was diagnosed with Alzheimer’s disease, he and his wife, Rita, reflected on what could have led to the disease — and wondered if it was related to his service in Vietnam.

“He did it joyfully,” Rita Siebenaler said of her husband’s service. “He’s paying the price for it now. ... I really would like this investigated further because Alzheimer’s takes such a toll on individual families.”

In 1965, Siebenaler served as a company commander in Vietnam, where he was exposed to Agent Orange. Decades later, he was diagnosed with Alzheimer’s by a neurologist conducting a grant-funded study at Georgetown University.

Because Alzheimer’s is not part of the VA’s presumptive list, the family does not receive financial assistance for Siebenaler’s health care. Rita Siebenaler said her family is paying exorbitant out-of-pocket expenses but knows other military families may have to go without care.

Research is emerging that dementia may be linked to Agent Orange exposure, but under current law, the VA is not required to respond or act to support veterans. Increasing presumptive reporting would ensure current presumptives are helping veterans and increase awareness around emerging conditions.

Action 3: Expand Veteran Health Care and Improve Presumptives Process
As the health consequences of burn pits and other toxic substances continue to be studied, the veteran community is witnessing a rise in rare cancers and other illnesses. We must ensure our veterans receive quality health care for these illnesses. The Toxic Exposure in the American Military (TEAM) Act supports veterans by:

- Granting the VA health care enrollment in Priority Group 6 to veterans who served in areas of known toxic exposure and creating mechanisms for the enrollment of veterans who may be exposed to toxic substances in the future.
- Establishing an advisory commission to review toxic exposures and recommend independent studies to the VA and Congress.
- Requiring the VA to respond to whether illnesses associated with toxic exposure by scientific evidence should be added as presumptive conditions.
Military kids currently impacted by this issue were toddlers or preschoolers on 9/11 and made many sacrifices as part of military families.

Parity for TRICARE Young Adults

Background
We urge Congress to fix a TRICARE eligibility gap for young adults that has existed for more than a decade. Commercial plans that offer dependent child coverage are required to make the coverage available until the adult child reaches the age of 26. There is no separate premium for families who elect to keep adult children on commercial plans. This protects young adults’ access to affordable health care even if they elect to pursue advanced degrees or face barriers obtaining their own employer-sponsored coverage.

In contrast, TRICARE policy terminates coverage for young adults at age 21 (or 23 if a full-time student). The FY 2011 National Defense Authorization Act established TRICARE Young Adult (TYA) extending eligibility to age 26 but, unlike families covered by commercial plans, TYA enrollees are required by law to cover the full cost of the program via a separate monthly premium. For 2021, the monthly premium to cover a young adult is $459 for TYA Prime (up 22% versus 2020) and $257 for TYA Select (up 13% versus 2020).

TRICARE Young Adult Program Is Not Sustainable
Young adult health care coverage is an issue that can impact any military family, but it is particularly important for career servicemembers and their families who are most likely to be covered by TRICARE when their children reach adulthood. In 2018, approximately 85% of TYA enrollees were the children of working-age retirees while 15% were the children of active duty families.

TYA premiums have increased dramatically since the program’s inception, leading to lower enrollment and a beneficiary pool skewed toward those with chronic medical conditions. TYA Prime premiums are up 160% since 2012 (an average annual increase of more than 14%) while the cost of TYA Select has grown 69% (up more than 7% per year, on average.)

As premiums have increased, the number of healthy young adults enrolling in TYA has declined. That results in a beneficiary pool — particularly for TYA Prime — with a disproportionate number of young adults who have significant medical needs. These needs, with fewer beneficiaries covering program costs, lead to further premium increases, creating a cycle of higher costs and fewer families paying them. This process likely will continue until TYA is no longer a viable program.

Military Health System Reform Should Mean More Than Just Fee Increases
Military Health System (MHS) reforms passed into law with the FY 2017 NDAA have meant one hit after another in terms of out-of-pocket costs, particularly for retirees.

Since 2018, provider office visit copays have more than doubled. Pharmacy copays have increased twice, while a growing number of prescription drugs are no longer covered by TRICARE at all. As of Jan 1, 2021, retirees on TRICARE Select have an all-new enrollment fee and a higher catastrophic cap. Retirees are also being moved out of military treatment facilities, where their care was free, and into the civilian network, where they face cost sharing.

MHS reform should be about more than just shifting costs to beneficiaries. Eliminating TYA premiums not only brings TRICARE on par with other employer sponsored plans, but it also targets an improvement at a beneficiary segment that is paying significantly more out of pocket as a result of MHS reform. And these changes should not come at the expense of others who’ve earned their benefits: MOAA opposes funding this expansion by raising TRICARE fees or cutting other uniformed services programs.

Military Kids Serve, Too
We appreciate Congress and DoD have recognized the unique challenges military kids face. According to the Department of Defense Education Activity, the average child in a military family will move six to nine times during their school years. Deployments and other family separations are also a fact of life for military kids, and a growing body of research shows many kids suffer emotional and educational impacts from these experiences. Yet current TRICARE policy leaves military kids transitioning into adulthood without the same health care protections afforded to families with commercial health care plans.

Ensuring health care access and affordability is particularly important during the current pandemic. As COVID-19 impacts higher education pathways and makes it more difficult for young adults to find jobs, we must ensure military families who have sacrificed so much in support of our nation have the same health care protections for their young adult children as their civilian counterparts covered by commercial plans.

Congress: Support H.R. 475, The Health Care Fairness for Military Families Act
Please ensure military families have the same health care protections for their young adult children as their civilian counterparts covered by commercial plans.

or
Move to “RESULTS”

“Structure the Conversation” Steps

• Get a quick list of the issues.
• Make sure the list is complete.
• Find out which issue is most important to the prospective member.
• Go in depth — develop evidence and impact.
• Summarize.
  • Did I get it right? Did I leave anything out?
Skill Sets: Resolving Yellow Lights

- Slow down for Yellow Lights
- Yellow Lights are an opportunity to express your intent and desire to create mutual value.
- If you are going to hit a red light, the sooner the better.
- A red light is not a failure. Failure is making a red light needlessly more expensive.

Newest Update:
Near Real Time Notification

As of Aug. 1, 2019, all Committee Module administrators now have access to retrieve reports on:

1) Brand-new MOAA members in the catchment area (Basic, Premium, or LIFE)
2) MOAA members who recently moved into the chapter's catchment area
3) Members in the area who recently opted in to receive chapter communications
4) No Contact Report — MOAA members who do not wish to be contacted by chapters

The report will only include names of members whose status changed as above from the previous month.

For example, the August Excel report will only have names only from July 1 through July 31, 2019. September's list will only have names from Aug. 1 through Aug. 31, 2019.

How to Access Monthly Recruiting List

Go to the front page of the Committee Module. There will be a hyperlink marked “Details for: Your Chapter Name”. Select this link to get to the NRT notification.

Monthly Recruiting List

After selecting the hyperlink, you’ll be taken back to your Committee Profile page where you’ll see “REPORTS” again.

REPORTS

No Contact Report
Monthly Recruiting List

After selecting the “Recruitment List” you’ll be asked if you want to open or save the file.

You can open the file or save it to your computer’s hard drive. We recommend opening it to review, then saving it to your hard drive, saving it as month/day/year so that you can keep track of the members you’re contacting for this month.
Include the ‘Unsubscribe Link’ in Your Email to New Recruits

When crafting your email message to new recruits, you must include the “unsubscribe link” in your email message.

For example:

Dear Colonel Smith:

I hope this message finds you doing well. Our Julie’s Test Chapter is looking forward to meeting you at our upcoming chapter meeting which will be held at the RoseCroft Country Club, Rosecroft Avenue, Iowa, on July 28th at 2:30pm. Please be sure to register your meal selections using this link: https://www.moaa.org/

To unsubscribe from these notices please go to moaa.org/email

Sincerely,
Victoria Twyne
President, Julie’s Test Chapter

The unsubscribe link allows recruits to “opt out” of receiving your email messages. When MOAA receives opt out notices from members, this will be added to the “No Contact Report” on the following month when you log into the Committee Module.

The unsubscribe link is included on the Excel report in the last column for anyone who has opted in to receive chapter emails/communications.
Use of MOAA Email Addresses

- These email addresses are provided by national MOAA exclusively for use by the chapter in official chapter communications for the purpose of recruiting new members. Any use of the addresses provided is governed by the following restrictions.
  - The email addresses provided by national MOAA may only be used for official chapter communications inviting the addressees to join the chapter, attend chapter events, or participate in chapter activities.
  - No more than three email messages may be sent to any addressee during a single calendar year.
  - The email list may not be shared with any other organization or individual without the advance written authorization of the Director, Council and Chapter Affairs.
  - Any files containing MOAA-provided email addresses will be maintained in a secure manner, password-protected and accessible only by authorized chapter officers.
  - Once an individual joins the chapter and becomes a chapter member, their email address may be added to the chapter’s membership records and normal chapter correspondence from that date forward may occur. However, in today’s environment it is prudent for chapter leadership to routinely take the appropriate steps to ensure the security and safe guarding of all members sensitive personal information.

Legal Tidbits for Effective Council & Chapter Management

Incorporation
- Chapters are affiliated with national MOAA but are separate legal entities. They need to obtain their own Employer ID number (EIN) from the IRS and seek their own IRS determination of tax-exempt status.
- MOAA recommends every chapter become incorporated as a nonprofit organization.
- Incorporation protects chapter officers and members from personal liability for chapter obligations.
- A chapter's articles of incorporation, which set forth the chapter's purpose, are separate from its bylaws, but the two documents should be consistent with one another.

Liability Insurance
- Every chapter is encouraged to obtain liability coverage to protect it from lawsuits resulting from bodily injury and property damage at chapter-sponsored activities.
- The decision to obtain liability insurance is best approached through the concept of risk management
  - Identifying a chapter's risks starts by considering what chapter activities could result in a claim.
  - Securing competitive bids is advisable and should include an analysis of coverage, rather than focusing on price alone.

Checking Accounts
- Chapters should have an independent chapter checking account.
- Authority to sign checks and any qualifications to that authority should be clarified by the chapter's board of directors.
- Chapters should establish an electronic funds transfer account with MOAA headquarters to facilitate disbursement of earned monetary incentives and awards.

Council - Chapter Relationship
- There is no relationship similar to a military chain of command between a council and its member chapters.
- All chapters are strongly encouraged to join their state council and keep their state council president informed of significant chapter events and visits by MOAA national officers.
Income Tax Considerations

- MOAA recommends every chapter seek exemption from federal corporate income taxes.
- Chapters should seek recognition of exemption under the IRS Code Section 501(c)(19) as a veterans’ organization.
  - To qualify, at least 75 percent of its members must be past or present members of the U.S. armed forces.
- A chapter with tax-exempt status and normal gross receipts of $50,000 or less annually is not required to file a federal tax return (IRS Form 990).
  - A chapter with less than $50,000 in gross receipts may be required to file an IRS Form 990N, which includes evidence of continued qualification for its tax exemption.
